Dear Parents/Carers,

Today is the final day in school before the half term holidays. I cannot believe that we will be finishing this academic year in just a few weeks! Next half term will be filled with transition events and information in preparation for September for all children. These final weeks of the school year always seem to pass particularly quickly as there is plenty going on. Please make sure you are keeping up to date with events via Dojo. We are also hoping to proceed with sports day as part of our wider sports week events. Final confirmation as to whether parents/carers can attend will be shared with you as soon as I am able to.

I would like to share with you a piece of writing by Emily White in class 4C this week. Year 4 children have been thinking about whether love/kindness can change the world in as part of their RE learning. This independent piece of writing is beautifully written by Emily and I think really captures the essence of the children's learning. Well done!

I hope you all have a lovely half term and look forward to seeing all the children back in school on Monday 7th June.

Year 4 Trip

After a false start last week, the Year 4 children headed off the beach this week. Our first official school trip since the pandemic began.

The sun might not have been shining that day but it certainly didn't dampen the children's spirits. A lovely day was had by all.

A special thank you to Flags Café for being so welcoming and allowing us to shelter from the showers and provided refreshments free of charge.

Octopus Ahoy!

Don't forget to download the Octopus Ahoy! App in time to the trial to start on 25th June. There are a chance to win prizes as well as having fun spotting our Octopus 'Ocean' and his friends.

More information about the project can be found here <https://www.octopusahoy.co.uk/>

Can love/kindness change the world? My response:

In PE we have been learning about can love/kindness change the world.

David Attenborough has shown kindness by helping all the animals and protecting them from bushfires and climate change, he also helps the animals by saving their habitats and stopping pollution in the ocean.

Greta Thunberg has shown love and kindness by standing outside the governments office everyday, holding a sign saying 'stop climate change!' Greta was only 9 when she started doing this, and is now on the television talking about climate change. She talks about you only need to turn off your bedroom light to stop it.

Mahatma Gandhi has shown love and kindness by showing to everyone that it doesn't matter what colour skin you have you are still a person and you shouldn't judge people because of how they look because they could be a really nice person.

My wishes are that climate change, global warming and bush fires stop. I also want all animals to have habitats and to be safe.

Yes I think love/kindness can change the world! If we all do something about it....
